St. Mary's Parish

It was under the patronage of Bishop Armand Francois Marie de Charbonnel that the first St. Mary's Church was constructed. Plans had been underway for this endeavour beforehand, but, due to one circumstance or another, it had to be delayed. When realized it was a "small church built of white brick 100 feet long and 42 feet wide".

The faithful gathering under the roof of the new structure included those who had fled the famine in Ireland. It is plain to see from the few hundred marriages listed below that many parishioners were of Irish stock during the early years of the parish.
